

What makes the BCA different?

The BCA approach provides measurable performance results and the highest return on the Owner's investment. We believe that achievement of commissioning success is recognized through sustained building performance.

We are an organization of professionals dedicated to the development and promotion of high commissioning industry standards. The Building Commissioning Association provides value through:

- The public acknowledgement of firms who adopt and follow our standards.
- Collaboration among associations, as well as design professionals and construction trades, in establishing high standards of industry practice
- Education of facility owners in the purchasing and applying of commissioning services
- Education of providers in the practice of commissioning
- Continuous improvement in the quality of commissioning services throughout the industry
- Establishment and provision of the highest level of commissioning certifications for commissioning professionals
- Establishment and provision of best practices, forms, and tools for buyers and sellers of commissioning services
- Development of commissioning best practices based on key quality elements instead of "one-size fits all" processes
- Encouragement of total building commissioning and integrated project delivery approach

In summary, we are "THE" Building Commissioning Association; the only commissioning organization whose core focus is on the integration of commissioning into buildings and systems throughout their life.
