The Building Commissioning Association

Advancing the Practice of Commissioning—Together

Sponsorship with the Building Commissioning Association (BCxA) is more than brand visibility—it is a commitment to advancing building performance, professional excellence, and industry credibility.

As the leading Association dedicated to commissioning, BCxA exists to elevate standards, develop practitioner skills, and advocate for quality outcomes that benefit building owners, occupants, and the built environment. Our sponsors play a critical role in making this work possible.

BCxA sponsorships are designed as strategic partnerships that align organizations that share our commitment to education, integrity, and long-term value. Through sponsorship, companies connect with a highly engaged audience of decision-makers, practitioners, and owners while supporting the programs, training, and initiatives that strengthen the commissioning profession as a whole.

When you sponsor BCxA, you are not simply supporting an event or placing a logo; you are investing in the future of commissioning and positioning your organization as a leader in advancing quality, performance, and trust across the industry.

Join us in driving excellence in building commissioning!

Conference Sponsorship

The Annual Conference is the BCxA's premiere event. This conference draws commissioning professionals, engineers, architects, policymakers, manufacturers, contractors, and more to this event year after year for its networking, resources, fresh content, education opportunities, industry trends, speakers and so much more.

By sponsoring at the Annual Conference, you can:

- Create or maintain your visibility and brand with BCxA members and industry professionals
- Meet with channel partners
- Arrange meetings with new and key customers
- Introduce new products or test market your new concept
- Demonstrate your product capabilities
- Capture leads and write orders
- Get on-the-spot customer feedback
- Link your URL on the Sponsor web page and receive a direct link to your products and services

2026 BCxA Annual Conference will be held in Vancouver, B.C.
Sheraton Vancouver Wall Center
October 21-23, 2026
