

CSE Magazine Renews Partnership with NCBC 2016

Consulting Specifying Engineer Magazine is once again renewing its media sponsorship for the annual National Conference on Building Commissioning, NCBC 2016. Continuing this wonderful partnership between the two industry leaders creates an extension of knowledge share from NCBC sessions into the engineering community.

NCBC will be held at the Renaissance Indian Wells Resort and Spa in California from May 16-18th. For more information, visit <http://www.bcxa.org/training/ncbc/>

NCBC, now in its 23rd year, is the premier annual event for leaders and newcomers across the building community to join together to learn and report on industry trends, cutting edge technical applications and quality education. NCBC advances state-of-the-art building commissioning and the professionals who practice it. The conference provides the forum for sharing the most cost-effective processes for optimizing building performance, safety and resilience while reducing resource consumption.

This year's theme, "Fire and Ice," explores the energy/water nexus and the role of whole building commissioning in delivering increasingly critical resource efficiency.

www.bcxa.org/training/ncbc

